

Bob Murphrey's humor hits the old funny bone hard

Laughter will take the spotlight Monday evening when East Texas humorist Bob Murphrey entertains those attending the annual Hondo Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

The big CofC event of the year takes place at 7:30 p.m. in the McDowell School Cafeteria and features Murphrey as speaker, presentation of the Outstanding Citizen and the Outstanding Farmer/Rancher awards, and introduction of the new officers and directors.

All this and a fine turkey and dressing dinner.

Bob Murphrey of Nacogdoches County has often said that he speaks perfect East Texas . . . and fair English. And he gets plenty of practice on both as he enjoys life on a small ranch in the Piney Woods region of East Texas where he was born and reared.

He usually is a little sketchy when asked for biographical information. His usual reply is that his background will stand anything but talking about. Or he has been known to retort: "The less you use the handle, the longer the hoe will last."

Actually, Bob Murphrey has had a varied and colorful background. A practicing lawyer by profession, he has looked at life and observed the American scene first as a Western Union messenger boy . . . then as a ranch hand . . . Sergeant-at-Arms of the Texas House of Representatives . . . Fire Chief . . . a war-time Merchant Marine officer . . . County Attorney . . . District Attorney . . . and respected member of the bar.

Growing up in a small town, Bob has some observations on them. As he sees it, "There ain't much to see living in a small town, but what you hear makes up for it."

Like the country woman who said she didn't enjoy spreading gossip but didn't know what else to do with it, Bob has passed along his quiet humor, wit and wisdom as a public speaker.

Bob Murphrey is in great demand as an after-dinner speaker," said Chamber President Burnis Lawrence, "and his down-to-earth philosophy, clear humor and witty observations have been enjoyed by hundreds of audiences throughout the United States. I feel that those who attend the Hondo Chamber of Commerce banquet will add their endorsement to Bob's ability."

Bruce Foster, the incoming president, will introduce the guests at the banquet following the invocation by the Rev. Homer Weimer of the First United Methodist Church.

Presentation of special awards will be made by Kenneth Flory.

Preparation of the meal will be by Mrs. Elmer Nienhoffer and her cafeteria staff; and the serving will be accomplished by the Future Homemakers of America students of Mrs. Dora Mae Faseler and Mrs. Mable Jones.

Once again, as they have done so well in the past, the students of the school for exceptional students, sponsored by the Medina County Association for Exceptional Children, will make the decorations for this annual event. Decorations follow a Christmas theme and are always on sale by the school.

"We are looking forward to a fine banquet, an entertaining time and excellent fellowship tuned toward the building of our city," Lawrence said. "We invite all of you to come and join us."

DO YOU EVER

... long to return to a town you visited or lived in many years ago? In your mind you visualize a picture of what you will see. A certain landmark dances vaguely in the memory stored for so many years. Names and places flit in and out, never stopping long enough for you to be certain if they really belong in that town or in the memory bank of some other long forgotten stopover in your life.

Every so often for the past several years, people have returned to Hondo after having lived here briefly 30 some odd years ago. Our town has actually changed little in that time span and these people many times go home after having satisfied memories that lingered on over all those years.

I walked in the shoes of those people on our trip to California to visit Patricia's folks, her parents, Clifford and Levina Brown, and her brother, John Heilman, and his wife and four lovely daughters. Thirty years ago, back in 1943, I unpacked my duffel bag and stopped over at Muroc Army Air Field near Lancaster. My memories of that brief stay recalled a small, pleasant and friendly town of about 4,500 souls, not too different from Hondo.

But, lo, the only name that my memory could dig up was the first name of the weekly newspaper editor, Ted. For the life of me I could not remember his last name.

So, I talked Patricia and her mother into driving to Lancaster. The two-hour ride began to stir doubts, for the four and six lane highway was a far cry from the two lane road I remembered. One night in that distant past I went to Los Angeles with a man and a truck load of sheep. He got souped to the gills and couldn't drive and even though I had never driven a truck in my life, I herded that thing through Los Angeles and over that narrow ribbon of concrete that twisted and turned, over, through and around mountains to the desert town of Lancaster.

But not this time. We whizzed north past new homes and shopping centers that weren't there even 15 years ago. Then came Palmdale, a tiny town I remembered as a general store and a gas station. Lockheed has a giant plant there now and the new Los Angeles International Airport is under construction in this desert setting some 80 miles from downtown L.A.

The size of Palmdale should have warned me, but still I was astounded when the Lancaster city limit sign told me there were 40,000 people living there now.

So, it was only natural that I went on a hit and miss course around the city straining hard to find a familiar landmark. Finally, I said "There used to be a railroad that ran through the main part of town."

We finally found the railroad and followed it until we saw the depot and I was on somewhat familiar ground. But just in that one spot.

I stopped at a service station and asked the woman there, "Where can I find the newspaper office?"

"Which one?" she asked. "We have two newspapers."

"Well," I answered, "the one that was here 30 years ago and was run by a man named Ted."

"That would be Ted Ruppert and the Ledger-Gazette," she said.

Yancey fracas muddled

There was a muddled mess near the McCrea and Son pecan plant in Yancey Sunday morning when shots were reportedly fired at three women, and by Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. it was still a muddled mess.

Workers at the McCrea plant demanded higher wages and better working conditions as early as Friday and then walked off the job to picket the plant.

Sunday morning three of the pickets, Dahlia F. Lara, Janie Moncada and Rosa Jasso, all of Yancey, said that Mrs. A. McCrea allegedly shot a rifle in their direction. The bullet supposedly went into some trees above their heads. The three said an earlier attempt to fire the rifle got only a snap.

Sheriff's deputies Jesse Arcos and Reserve James Grunewald were dispatched to Yancey to investigate the incident. Later Sunday afternoon Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder arrived on the scene.

As of 2 p.m. Wednesday no charges had been filed in the case and the three women were in the office of County Attorney Allen Lee to discuss the incident.

The three probably will be given an opportunity to present their case before a Grand Jury which convenes in about a month.

Sheriff Hitzfelder and County Attorney Lee were both asked the question: "Why could not an arrest have been made without a warrant?"

The both answered: "Unless a law enforcement officer personally sees a crime being committed he cannot arrest a person without a warrant." They say that is the written law.

The three women also talked to District Attorney Earl Caddell who was in Hondo Wednesday on District Court business and he advised them to have the discussion with County Attorney Lee.

Blood drive plans outlined

On December 17 and 18 Hondo will conduct a blood drive. This will be a community-wide effort and while it does not have the sponsorship of any one group or organization, all of the service organizations and church groups are wholeheartedly supporting it, as are many interested citizens.

"This is as it should be," Jim Prenslar, chairman, said, "for a concentrated drive of this type to be a success. The donating of one's blood is after all a very personal thing and therefore the interest and support of every citizen asked to donate should not be overlooked."

The blood drive is being conducted under the supervision of Blood Services of San Antonio. Blood Services is the largest commercially sponsored, not for profit blood bank in the world. Blood Services and Red Cross together provide 80 percent of the blood banking in the world, with the remaining 20 percent provided by commercial blood banks.

Blood Services was invited into San Antonio in 1953, and at the present time serves 52 hospitals within an area from as far north as San Marcos, east to Victoria, south to Laredo and west to Del Rio.

They recently went to an all volunteer donor program in order to accomplish three primary objectives: 1) They hope to force commercial banks out of business. 2) They hope to lower the over-all

Farm Bureau protests

The president of the Medina County Farm Bureau said this week that some farmers in the county are unable to buy diesel and other middle-distillate fuels because of red-tape in the mandatory allocation system.

President Ralph Graff said the county Farm Bureau sent a telegram to the Administrator of Petroleum Allocation in Washington, D. C., asking for relief.

Text of the telegram read: "Due to the excessive rain in September and October 1973, farmers have not been able to harvest their crops and prepare their land for next year.

Most farmers are as much as three months late in 1973 with their field work.

"Land that has been plowed must be plowed again because of regrowth and no killing frost. With these variations it is impossible to allot diesel fuel for 1973 on 1972 monthly usage. Nor would 1974 fuel usage necessarily be the same as 1973's."

The local farm leader said the government's program allocates these fuels on the basis of purchases made 12 months ago. This rigid formula makes the program unworkable.

He explained that many farmers did not buy diesel, butane and propane fuels this time last year because it was too wet to get in the fields. Also, better prices this year enabled some farmers to trade in their old gasoline-powered equipment for new diesels. Since they have no history on buying diesel fuel, it is not available to them now.

Although the government had issued so-called "common-sense" directive for distributors to assist in hardship cases, the distributors are afraid of making a decision that could cost them a heavy fine.

increase efficiency in the handling of the mandatory allocation of middle distillate fuels. An agreement between the state and federal agencies should speed up the program.

Beginning immediately, ASCS County Office personnel will verify fuel needs for hardship cases on Form 00G-PAP-20 for all applications prior to their submission of the State Allocation Officer (Texas Railroad Commission).

Previously, it was planned that needed verification would be obtained after the form was submitted to the Austin office. Form 00G-PAP-20 is to be used by wholesale purchasers to request emergency allocations for immediate use. The form has been supplied to ASCS County Offices throughout the State and was made available to County Clerks' offices.

Also available is Form 00G-PAP-17 which is for the use of purchasers of middle distillate fuels in bulk supply to adjust their monthly allocation for the year or for obtaining a new allocation.

Further information may be obtained from the County ASCS Offices.

Change in plans

Members of the Medina County Museum board will not meet on December 3, their regular meeting date, so that they might attend the Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet.

The Museum board will meet on Monday, December 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Medina Electric Cooperative. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

cost of blood to the patient. 3) They hope to further insure the absolute purity of all the blood they receive.

Going to an all-volunteer program means that in order to supply the 3,000-odd units of blood needed per month by the hospitals served by Blood Services, each individual community must be willing to do its part.

Up to now this blood has been provided for whenever necessary by Blood Services' sister banks out of town and out of state, and will always continue to be provided for, when necessary. But the ideal situation would be for these communities to provide most or all of this blood themselves.

Blood Services offers a unique Blood Assurance program to those people donating blood. When you donate a unit of blood you and each member of your immediate family will be covered for all of your blood needs for a period of one year at any hospital anywhere in the free world.

Eligible donors must be between the ages of 18 and 66 and must not have a history of any of the following: 1) Hepatitis or jaundice 2) Malaria 3) Diabetes 4) Venereal disease 5) Having been in Southeast Asia within the past three years. There may be other medical problems which would disqualify certain individuals, and these would be detected at the screening on the day of donation.

There are some medications which in the past disqualify many people, but at the present time are no longer a reason for disqualification. If you take medication which has you in doubt as to your eligibility, you may call Blood Services in San Antonio at 226-2257, tell them the medications you are taking and they will advise you as to whether or not you may donate. In any event these things would be screened out at the time you go to donate.

The 30 percent plan is an excellent way for the younger, able members of a congregation to provide this protection for the elderly and those who for one reason or another are unable to donate blood.

Volunteers will take the names, addresses and telephone numbers of those persons wishing to donate. A committee has been set up to schedule appointments for the days of the drive and all donors will be notified in advance, as to the time they may come in to donate.

Blood Services also offers a program called the 30 percent plan, whereby church congregations can have 30 percent of their eligible members donate a unit of blood each and this in turn would provide the same blood assurance program for the entire congregation and their immediate families.

The 30 percent plan is an excellent way for the younger, able members of a congregation to provide this protection for the elderly and those who for one reason or another are unable to donate blood.

Volunteers will take the names, addresses and telephone numbers of those persons wishing to donate. A committee has been set up to schedule appointments for the days of the drive and all donors will be notified in advance, as to the time they may come in to donate.

The drive will take place on Monday, December 17 and Tuesday, December 18, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. at St. John's Parish Hall

Blood Services is sending a six-bed unit and they will be prepared to process 18-20 donors per hour. The total time involved will be 20-35 minutes and donors will receive some refreshment before returning to work, etc.

It is hoped that a community blood drive will be conducted on a twice-yearly basis. The first time you donate to give yourself and your immediate family the protection of the Blood Assurance Program, and the second time you donate to help replace the blood desperately needed to fulfill the needs of our community and others served by Blood Services.

The Blood Assurance program is renewable at the end of 1 year. So in order to maintain this protection for yourself and the members of your immediate family, you must donate blood once each year.

Adult Education program begins

A first-time-ever adult education concept is being tried for Hondo-D'Hanis area residents.

The new program, directed through Hondo High School and funded from State and Federal Sources, is designed for people with special educational needs. There is no tuition charge to the student; this feature makes it unique among adult education programs.

At the first meeting of interested persons on November 20, over 60 potential students attended. It is expected that an additional twenty persons might be attracted in future sessions.

"Students appeared eager and ready last Tuesday night," reported Hondo School Counselor Richard Lynch. "The teachers are looking forward to teaching in this new program, too."

The new program Lynch mentioned is one which is open-ended. Registration requires only that a person walk in on any class night, fill out a short form, and enter the class.

A person may start the program at any time during the year.

Basic education subjects will serve students in Math, Science, English, Social Studies, and Reading to the point where he or she can take the GED Examination for High School Equivalence.

Classes now being offered each Tuesday and Thursday night between 7 and 9 p.m. include English as a second language (for non-English speaking adults); Beginning level (grades 1-3); Intermediate level and Advanced level (grades 4-8); and High School equivalency (GED) for grades 9-12.

While tuition costs are zero, a $10 charge is involved for the GED examination when the student is ready to take it. Also, budgetary cuts by the State may make a nominal charge necessary for books and other supplies. But these are small compared to other programs of this type.

Classes started Tuesday November 27, and will also be held tonight (Thursday, Nov. 29) at the High School.

In an effort to create more interest in orchard production, The Hondo National Bank is offering a "Starting Kit" of pecan, peach and nectarine trees (see advertisement for kind and variety). All you have to do is fill out the coupon in the advertisement and either mail to the Bank, or deposit in the box at the Bank. The drawing will be held December 15, 1973, and the trees will be awarded to the first and second prize winners shortly thereafter for Fall planting. They must be planted in Medina County.

A one year old pecan orchard using the new trickle irrigation system is now established in Medina County and is being operated by The Hondo National Bank Trust Department. The orchard has over 8600 trees arid is developed on 240 acres.

The Edwards Underground Water Supply which offers a reliable source of excellent irrigation water and with the introduction of trickle irrigation which allows for irrigation at tremendous savings and on uneven land, the potential for orchards becomes greater. Orchard crops which do well in Medina County include pecans, peaches, pears, nectarines and plums. There is also a possibility of grape production if some experimental work now being done is successful.

Medina County has a wide variety of agricultural enterprises including livestock, small grains, grain sorghum, corn, vegetables, and fruit and nut production. The most undeveloped enterprise with the greatest growth potential is fruit and nut production.

"Creative Stitchery" program set Thursday

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Home Demonstration Clubs will present Mary E. Heickman with a special program on Creative Stitchery in Hondo Thursday, December 6, at 10 a.m. at the City Auditorium.

Mrs. Heickman was an art teacher in the Houston high schools for 26 years where she taught classes in painting, design, printing, batik, enameling, weaving and stitchery. In San Antonio she has regular classes in Creative Stitchery at the Southwest Craft Center.

In the past year she has conducted two-day workshops in Uvalde, Cuero, and Kingsville. The student learns to see the world around her in a different way. Every blade of grass, the pebbles, leaves and seed pods, reveal a new discovery at every step. Stitchery is a very exciting and satisfactory form of art.

Mrs. Heickman grew up near Somerset and now lives there with her husband on the family farm.

If you are interested in an unusual and beautiful form of art, come to the free program on Creative Stitchery.

Library News

The Board of Trustees, Hondo Public Library, at its November 20 meeting heard a report from the Junior Service League on the successful Christmas Bazaar held November 17 for the benefit of the library.

Cindy Winkler, League president, said final figures were not yet available, but gross receipts were larger than expected. Attending with Mrs. Winkler were Susan Zuberbauer, treasurer; Judy Schumann, Patsy Meeton, Julie Davis, Freddie Woods, Helen Ann Jones and Theresa Schoellman. Other League officers are Sandy Scheweers, vice president, and Susan Freeman, secretary.

Mrs. Winkler asked members of the Library Board to attend their next meeting, sometime in early December, at which time the money raised would be presented to the library.

Sally Brucks, Library Board Chairman, expressed appreciation to the League for their fine work in assisting the library. Others present at the meeting were Board members, Virginia Clift and Franklin Wiemers, Mrs. Lottie Maw, librarian, and Ina Mansell, secretary. A group of Camp Fire Girls toured the library on November 20. They were Diane Schifers, leader; Penny Faseler, assistant; Pauline Aelvoet, Sheila Balzen, Donna Jacobs, Patricia Lewis, Kay Wentz, Sharon Schueling, Dela Rios, Susan Gooch, Debbie Saathoff and Lucy Villa.

Memorial donations for friends were presented to the library by former Hondoan, Edna McDade. A hand-crafted miniature cornucopia was brought in for display by Lela Stout. A varied selection of magazines were donated by the Paul Reily family, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Redus, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herring, Mrs. Mildred Teague and C. C. Black, who also gave some technical books.

Other donors include Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGarity, books and paperbacks; Barbara Weems, paperbacks; Virginia Clift, books; George Deckert, paperbacks, and Liz Maples, "Fortune Made His Sword" by Marilia Rosehart.

Those overdue books library readers, for some reason, have not returned would make marvelous Christmas gifts for the library, Mrs. Maw suggests. The books are sorely needed and can be returned so easily with a minimum of time and effort. If the library is not open, use the bookdrop. Regular library hours are 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Owls lose bi-district bid 8-3

Football in 1973 ended for the Hondo Owls on a disappointing note Friday night as they lost a heartbreaker to the Randolph Ro-Hawks, 8-3, on the Hawks' home field.

Playing strong defense throughout, the Owls gave Randolph three scoring opportunities in the first half. The third of these Randolph was able to convert to a touchdown.

But in the second half, it was all Hondo as the Owls re-discovered the power sweep and Gene McAnelly used it to perfection in two long Owl drives.

Almost all Hondo, that is. For the potential game-winning play was foiled when Ro-Hawk safety-quarterback Joey DiQuinzio lunged forward to bat down a fourth down Brian Finger pass in the end zone.

In two more minutes the game was over and Randolph had won the right to represent the two districts 27 and 28-AA against Van Vecht, who won their bi-district game against Hallettsville.

Hondo had had its troubles in the opening half. The opening Hondo drive of Randolph was stifled by the Owls, and the Ro-Hawks punted. But after making their initial first down, the Owls couldn't do any better and Ray Garcia went back to punt. The snap was high, and when Garcia kicked it the ball traveled a net minus-4 yards.

The Hawks drove down to Hondo's 27 before Doug Helvey grabbed Joey DiQuinzio's shoestrings on fourth down and turned back the threat.

Again, bad luck was lurking as Hondo took over. Brain Finger's second pass of the night was picked off by John Miller, who returned it to the Owl 32.

But once again also, the Owl defense rose to the occasion to throw back the Hawks on a fourth down incompleteness. Charles Britsch played excellent defense in that series.

Late in the second quarter, a punt into the stiff wind by Finger traveled only 17 yards to the Hondo 41. From there, Randolph used all four backs (including just-activated David Scott) to slice into the Hondo defense. Ted Mendoza stopped George Ellis after a fifteen-yard gain to the Hondo 3-yard line, but he punched into the end zone on the next play.

The Ro-Hawks, who never kick on a conversion play, ran this one true to form, and it was 8-0 with but 56 seconds left in the half.

After the break, Hondo came out inspired, and the Owls dominated the playing field.

Though their first drive was cut short by another turnover, Hondo put together its first drive of the night late in the third quarter as the Owls followed the speedy McAnelly's power sweeps from their own 20-yard line to the Randolph 17. A counterpoint to McAnelly's wide rambling were the inside jabs of Tony Hackebel, and a completion by Finger to Doug Helvey for 10 yards. Finding themselves with a fourth-and-8 situation and needing the three points badly anyway, the Owls elected to go for a field goal. Finger's kick was perfect, and the margin was 8-3 with still 8:42 remaining in the game.

The defense went out and once again did its job, holding off the Ro-Hawks and forcing a punt even though by now tri-captains Eddie Pope and Ted Mendoza, early defensive stalwarts, had been injured. Mendoza leaving the players will get a quick test of their skills today in the Medina Valley Tournament.

Owl Basketball season starts today at MV

Hondo Owl Basketball

Their first game of the tourney is set for 5 p.m. Thursday evening.

Having concentrated exclusively on football until their elimination from the playoffs Friday night, the Owl cagers have worked out only since Monday.

But as the year rolls on, Hondo's team should improve steadily, possibly to the district champion level attained by last year's squad.

Asked about this far-in-the-future possibility, Coach Dan Keath replied, "On paper, it looks pretty good. We'll return five of last year's varsity.

But Kebo (Keith Ligon) will be missing this year, and he was good for about 20 points per game last year. Those are big shoes to fill."

Attempting to fit his feet into those shoes is Paul Richards, a 6' 7"

Sophomore who performed well on the Frosh team last season.

Richards brings the height quotient for the Owls up considerably, close to 6' 3" on the average. Added to Doug Helvey's 6' 4", Brian Finger's even 6' 0", and Ray Garcia's 5' 11", Richards does make a difference.

About fifty students turned out for the first official workout Monday afternoon. Of these, the following comprise a tentative varsity roster:

Hunting accidents rise

in Texas during 72-73

AUSTIN-- Texans were involved in more hunting accidents during the 1972-73 season than they were during the 1971-72 season, and more of the accidents were fatal.

the year before.

Of the more recent accidents, 28 were fatal, a substantial increase over the 20 fatalities the year before.

Twenty-four of last season's accidents were caused by persons 16 years old or younger, and 33 of the 94 victims last year were 16 years old or younger.

During the 1972-73 season, shotguns were involved in 41 of the accidents; rifles in 35; handguns in 15; bow and arrow in one; and pellet gun in one. In one other hunting accident, the causative agent was unknown.

Hunter safety specialists say the wearing of hunter protective clothing, such as blaze orange or hunter orange, might have prevented 23 of the accidents involving shooter judgment such as the shooter's swing on victim, the victim's moving into the line of fire, the victim's being mistaken for game or the victim's moving out of sight of the shooter.

This is an excellent time to say "Congratulations" to a fine Owl football team and to Coach James Bohls and his fine staff.

We believe the people of Hondo are extremely proud of your 1973 season and especially the character and sportsmanship you displayed throughout the season.

Good luck to the seniors. And to the other Owls: "We'll see you next year!"

Good management essential for good grazing

Medina County producers planning to plant small grain pastures are: remove livestock during periods of wet weather; keep a supply of dry roughage available; don't overgraze during dry or cold periods as stem terminals may be destroyed; remove cattle around March 1 on acreages where grain is to be harvested.

To obtain maximum production from small grain pastures, it is a must to withhold grazing until plants are completely established and well rooted. Grazing pastures before plants are 6-8 inches high can reduce total forage production by 50 percent. Small grains will not grow during periods of cold weather prevalent during December and January. Therefore, pastures should be allowed to accumulate enough growth to carry livestock through the non-productive periods. The amount needed will depend upon stocking rate, the higher the stocking rate, the more accumulated growth necessary.

Since most small grains are utilized as a dual-purpose crop, that is, for both grain and forage, additional nitrogen is usually needed as a top-dress application. A large proportion of the initial fertilizer applied is removed through the grazed leaves. Grain yields and spring forage production may suffer unless additional fertilizer is applied in sufficient amounts.

Winter pastures are expensive to produce and should be grazed with livestock of high market value such as stocker calves and dairy animals. However, many cow-calf operations can benefit from their use. Small grain pastures can be used to meet protein and energy requirements of the cow and young calf. These requirements can be met by grazing for limited periods each day or by grazing every third to fourth day. This allows for more animals to be grazed than when the pasture is continuously used.

Prowlers-2, burglars-5, family disturbance-12, disturbance in public place-7, drunk in public place-13, fighting-2, backing not in safety-1, stolen bicycles-2, improper turn-3, failed to control speed-3, emergency message delivered-3.

Don't overload home freezers

Home freezers may balk if loaded with too much unfrozen food at one time. Mrs. Gaye Bippert, county Extension agent, warned.

Add only the amount of food that will freeze within 24 hours—in other words, about two or three pounds per cubic foot of freezer space.

For example, add no more than forty pounds of unfrozen food at one time in a twelve cubic foot freezer.

If a freezer can't cool fast enough to sharp freeze a big load, the entire unit's temperature rises. Consequently, any stored frozen food becomes warmer—damaging its quality.

So, add foods in small quantities to a home freezer to maintain quality of the product. Or, sharp freeze it at a locker plant where equipment is built for the job. Then transfer the frozen product to a home freezer.

Even freezing a large quantity of fruits and vegetables can overload a

Outdoors 'n' things

by L.D. Nuckles

Those of us who live in Texas and other states where hunting is an important form of outdoor recreation don't realize just how determined an effort is being made in some places to do away with this sport. The people who are leading this fight, I suspect, have never had the opportunity to really learn anything about hunters or hunting.

In most western states, like Texas, as a boy grows to manhood, one of the lessons he learns about life is how to be a good sportsman about his hunting and fishing. Of course, we have our outlaw hunters and our game hogs, but a code of ethics prevails and most Texans grow up learning to live by it. In some of our more populous states, where the works of man have claimed most of the hunting territory, there is neither enough room nor enough game for the hordes of would-be hunters. Thousands may converge on one tiny area and the results are pure chaos. This, however, is not hunting as we know it here in Texas, but just because these conditions don't exist here you shouldn't get the idea that there are a not a lot of people who would like to see all hunting banned. Many feel that it is morally corrupt to take up arms to hunt and kill wild animals.

These people do not base their arguments to win recruits on any proven facts--instead, they appeal to sentiment and emotion. They refuse to even discuss the possibility that hunting might help wildlife, that a quick, clean kill is preferable to a lingering death from starvation or disease caused by over-crowding. They often use downright lies, that they know are lies, to further their cause.

One of the most vocal of these groups is Friends of Animals, Inc. (FOA), an organization led by a New York woman. The long list of well-known people on their board of directors might surprise you. In a TV interview not long ago this lady stated that the statistical lists of hunters killed in hunting accidents, published at the close of the hunting season, was a source of much joy and celebration to her group. Some idea as to the hard-core approach of this group can be garnered from these points in a creed as recently published in some of their literature:

1) "I Don't Hunt" is our slogan to the fast gun. Wear it. Show it.

2) "Patronize only businesses, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, etc., who do not hunt. Ask them to display the 'I Don't Hunt' slogan.

3) "Form an 'I Don't Hunt' club in your area to serve as a protective unit for private lands posted against hunting and trapping."

4) "Ask the PTA to press for a policy of nonemployment of teachers who hunt and to bar speakers from the Game Commission and sporting clubs."

5) "Keep your children out of the Boy Scouts and other youth organizations, until the policy of promoting hunting is changed to protecting protection."

6) "Let your neighbors know that the National Wildlife Federation is a composite of sporthunting groups, that their mass 'conservation' mailings with the pretty stickers of wildlife are appeals for funds used to promote hunting, and their Disney-type magazine, 'Ranger Rick', is aimed at instilling in young minds the love of killing helpless creatures."

7) "Consider changing your church - or your religion - if the leaders hunt or sponsor fund-raising banquets on the flesh of wildlife."

8) "Ostracize socially those who hunt."

9) "Ask all candidates for public office if they will back the movement to ban all hunting."

10) "Send FOA's 'Award' to all hunters in your area."

They conclude with this appeal: "When a man wantonly destroys the works of man, he is called a vandal; when he wantonly destroys the works of God, he is called a sportsman." Did you ever read such trash?

To give up a freedom that one has never had is no great thing. For those of us who had rather see surplus wildlife harvested and used, rather than die a lingering death; for those of us who have grown up knowing hunting as a way of life, and a good one; the privilege of hunting and the right to possess and bear arms is a heritage too precious to give up without an all-out struggle.
